General Assistance – Oahu

Disclaimer: While we strive to make the information in this list as timely and accurate as possible, we make no claims, promises, or guarantees about the accuracy, completeness, or adequacy of the contents included here, and expressly disclaim liability for errors and omissions in its contents. No warranty of any kind, implied, expressed, or statutory, including but not limited to the warranties of non-infringement of third-party rights, title, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose or freedom from computer virus, is given with respect to the contents of this list or its links to other Internet resources. Reference in this site to any specific commercial product, process, or service, or the use of any trade, firm or corporation name is for the information and convenience of the public, and does not constitute endorsement, recommendation, or favoring.

This is a listing of a wide range of resources, including those having to do with air travel, assistive technology, benefits, caregivers, disabilities, emergency notifications, employment, energy assistance, financial assistance, financial counseling, food assistance, household safety, housing, independent living services, insurance, legal aid, pill reminder services, service animals for those who are not blind, and services for women and children.

“Assistive technology” mean any kind of equipment or device or system that helps a person who has a disability. These are things like wheelchairs, walkers, glasses, hearing aids, computer screen magnifiers, ramps, special handles and grips, lights on telephones, closed captioning on TV and movie screens, and more.

“Independent living,” for persons with disabilities, means having equal opportunities, self-respect, being able to decide things for themselves, and advocating for themselves, among other things.

Aloha Independent Living Hawaii

Aloha Independent Living Hawaii (AILH) serves persons with disabilities on all islands. Services are free and the only eligibility requirement is that consumers must be a person with a disability. They provide five core services: 1) Information and referral; 2) peer counseling; 3) advocacy; 4) independent living skills; and 5) transition (young people with disabilities transitioning to employment, further education, or independent living, or helping people transition from health care facilities back to community-based living or help people avoid entering institutions.

Kupuna Caregivers Program

In July 2017 Governor David Ige signed into law, HB 607 appropriating $600,000 to the Executive Office on Aging (EOA) to establish the Kupuna Caregivers program, aimed at supporting working caregivers. Recognizing the tremendous contributions of caregivers, the bill provides financial assistance to support employed caregivers to remain in the workforce, provided certain criteria are met. EOA and the county Area Agencies on Aging are working to develop and implement the program. EOA plans to launch the Kupuna Caregivers program in 2018.

“Adult day programs or care” means a group setting where seniors and adults with disabilities can go during the daytime. It is not a place where they live. The professional staff there help health, nutritional, social, and daily living needs of these individuals. Adult day care also helps by giving caregivers time to go to work, go shopping, etc.

“Case management” is working together to find out what is needed, and to plan and coordinate care based on the needs of an individual or group. This may refer to health and / or other needs. A case manager helps to link a client to services and resources. A case manager may also advocate for a client, for example if there is something they need but cannot get.

Hospice Care – Oahu

Disclaimer: While we strive to make the information in this list as timely and accurate as possible, we make no claims, promises, or guarantees about the accuracy, completeness, or adequacy of the contents included here, and expressly disclaim liability for errors and omissions in its contents. No warranty of any kind, implied, expressed, or statutory, including but not limited to the warranties of non-infringement of third-party rights, title, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose or freedom from computer virus, is given with respect to the contents of this list or its links to other Internet resources. Hospice care focuses on the last six months of a person's life. Services may take place at the person's home, or in a hospice facility. It means that instead of looking for a cure, the goal is to make the person as comfortable as possible and have the best quality of life in the time that remains.

"Palliative care" includes pain management and symptom management. It is sometimes also called "supportive care" or "concurrent care." It can take place at the patient's own home, nursing home, or hospital. Palliative care is also for persons who are sick but are not dying. The goal is to help them live longer, happier lives by managing their conditions as best as possible so they don't interfere with patients' lives.

In-Home Assistance, Supported Living, and Respite Care – Oahu

Disclaimer: While we strive to make the information in this list as timely and accurate as possible, we make no claims, promises, or guarantees about the accuracy, completeness, or adequacy of the contents included here, and expressly disclaim liability for errors and omissions in its contents. No warranty of any kind, implied, expressed, or statutory, including but not limited to the warranties of non-infringement of third-party rights, title, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose or freedom from computer virus, is given with respect to the contents of this list or its links to other Internet resources. Reference in this site to any specific commercial product, process, or service, or the use of any trade, firm or corporation name is for the information and convenience of the public, and does not constitute endorsement, recommendation, or favoring.

“In-home care” means services that help a person with special needs stay in their home. This includes kupuna, people recovering from surgery, or persons with disabilities. It can mean personal care, homemaking chores, cooking or delivering meals, and having home health care.

“Supported living” is for persons with disabilities. They receive ongoing support that helps them live where they want, with whom they want, and for long as they want. Support includes services such as supported living coaches, employment or day training, transportation, companions, and chore and homemaker services, among others.

“Respite care” is the short-term care of a person who is sick elderly, or disabled. It temporarily provides relief for their caregivers. It could be for just an afternoon, several days, or even weeks. The care can take place at home, in a healthcare facility, or at an adult day care center.

Neuropsychologists are psychologists who specialize in understanding the relationship between the physical brain and behavior, and how the brain and systems relate to behavior and thinking. They look at what a person's brain does and how the person acts in life, with regard to emotions, socially, physically, and more. They often work closely with other medical professionals.

Plastic surgeons perform operations that change the shape or appearance of part of a patient's body. They not only perform cosmetic surgeries such as nose jobs or face lifts, but they also perform reconstructive surgeries for patients who have injuries from a car crash or other accident or for those with birth defects.

Respite, In-Home and Supported Living Care – Oahu

Disclaimer: While we strive to make the information in this list as timely and accurate as possible, we make no claims, promises, or guarantees about the accuracy, completeness, or adequacy of the contents included here, and expressly disclaim liability for errors and omissions in its contents. No warranty of any kind, implied, expressed, or statutory, including but not limited to the warranties of non-infringement of third-party rights, title, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose or freedom from computer virus, is given with respect to the contents of this list or its links to other Internet resources. “Respite care” is the short-term care of a person who is sick elderly, or disabled. It temporarily provides relief for their caregivers. It could be for just an afternoon, several days, or even weeks. The care can take place at home, in a healthcare facility, or at an adult day care center.

“In-home care” means services that help a person with special needs stay in their home. This includes kupuna, people recovering from surgery, or persons with disabilities. It can mean personal care, homemaking chores, cooking or delivering meals, and having home health care.

“Supported living” is for persons with disabilities. They receive ongoing support that helps them live where they want, with whom they want, and for as long as they want. Support includes services such as supported living coaches, employment or day training, transportation, companions, and chore and homemaker services, among others.

Therapists (OT, PT, RT, ST) – Oahu

Occupational, Physical, Recreational, and Speech Therapists

Disclaimer: While we strive to make the information in this list as timely and accurate as possible, we make no claims, promises, or guarantees about the accuracy, completeness, or adequacy of the contents included here, and expressly disclaim liability for errors and omissions in its contents. No warranty of any kind, implied, expressed, or statutory, including but not limited to the warranties of non-infringement of third-party rights, title, merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose or freedom from computer virus, is given with respect to the contents of this list or its links to other Internet resources. Reference in this site to any specific commercial product, process, or service, or the use of any trade, firm or corporation name is for the information and convenience of the public, and does not constitute endorsement, recommendation, or favoring.

Occupational therapy (OT) – A kind of therapy (a way to get better) from a physical or mental illness that focuses on activities that we do in our daily lives. This could include things like helping people learn how to take care of themselves again, helping children with disabilities be able to go to school, learning how to work again, and more.

Physical therapy (PT) – A way to treat a disease or injury by using physical methods such as exercise, massage, and heat treatment, among others. The idea is to save, make better, or restore movement and physical function.

Recreational therapy (RT) – This therapy uses recreation and other activity-based work to help people recover from illnesses and / or disabling conditions. The treatment is specially designed for the person and might include arts and crafts, cooking, dance, music, drama, social activities, fitness activities, games, puzzles, writing, and more.

Speech therapy (speech and language pathologist, or SLPs) – SLPs are experts in communication. They work with people of all ages from babies to adults. They treat many times of communication and swallowing problems.
